

The PET-AGREE is a hand held device to assist in training and conditioning a pet dog or cat. The PET-AGREE emits a harmless, humane high frequency sound, clearly audible to dogs and cats but barely perceptible to humans. This sound helps emphasize verbal commands to improve a pet's response or can be used as a stimulus alone to initiate a conditioned response or interrupt improper behavior. The PET-AGREE alone does not induce proper behavior and the best results occur when used in conjunction with proper, proven, effective training techniques.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Point the PET-AGREE toward the pet from a distance of about 5 feet up to 20 feet away.
2. Press the button for 1 or 2 seconds while giving the desired verbal command.
3. Repeat as necessary until the pet responds to your command as desired.

USES

Training: The PET-AGREE can help emphasize verbal commands to sit, heel, stay, come, quiet, stay down or any other trained response for your pet. PET-AGREE may also be used as the signal for a trained response such as calling back your dog from a long distance.

Behavior Modification: The PET-AGREE can reinforce corrective commands to keep a pet off the furniture, stop jumping up on people, stop excessive barking or caterwauling, stay out an area or stop clawing, biting, scratching and chewing.

Protection: The PET-AGREE can also be used to keep stray or unleashed dogs from approaching.

1. Point the PET-AGREE toward the aggressive, approaching animal
2. Press the button and activate PET-AGREE for 1 to 2 seconds
3. Repeat as necessary to repel or stop the animal

HELPFUL HINTS

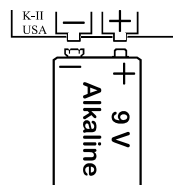

- Always use positive reinforcement techniques when training with the PET-AGREE.
- Best results are obtained when the PET-AGREE is pointed in the direction of the pet being trained.
- Some pets respond instantly, while others may require more time. Be consistent and repetitive.
- As a pet's response to commands improves the PET-AGREE may be required less frequently.
- Effectiveness may vary due to each pet's age, temperament, and hearing ability. Deaf pets will not respond.

TESTING THE PET-AGREE

The red light (LED) will light brightly and constantly while the button is depressed indicating that the PET-AGREE is functioning and the battery is good. If the LED does not light, replace the battery with a new 9 Volt Alkaline Battery.

CHANGING THE BATTERY (use only 9 Volt Alkaline Battery!)

1. Remove the two screws on the bottom of the PET-AGREE.
2. Lift off the top of case and gently pull Alkaline Battery away from terminals.
3. Insert a new Alkaline Battery, insuring proper terminal alignment (see picture).
4. Replace case top and screws insuring the red light (LED) is visible through the hole in top of case.

CAUTIONS: Do Not Touch the Silver Disc on Front of the PET-AGREE!

Denting or damaging the silver disc can cause the PET-AGREE to malfunction and void the warranty. The PET-AGREE is designed as a training aid for dogs and cats only.

The PET-AGREE should not be directed at humans or used for other than its intended design. Children should not use the PET-AGREE without adult supervision.
